And now?!

I want to form part of a committed and, optimally, distributed team.

I heavily work daily to improve my coding skills. I'm not an expert, just yet; but I haven't found so far something I could not do.

Currently I'm interested in scalable-architectures, functional-programming, and css-animations.

If you are looking for a team-player to join you in an impossibly idealistic quest, I'm up for it!
